Geelong Master Builders relocating

Builders and tradespeople in the Geelong region will benefit from the opening of a new Master Builders office.

The Geelong office of the Master Builders will move to a new premises this week to allow for an expansion to training services and facilities.

From today, staff from the existing Fenwick Street South office are moving into 3 Melbourne Road, Drumcondra, next to the Church Street overpass.

The newly renovated office will provide building permit services, insurance advice, building contracts and membership information. Most importantly, the new offices have been refurbished to provide more space for training.

Office Manager Tony Bugeja said the move was exciting for staff and the building community.

“We will be able to offer all of our regular services like before but will now have more space to provide tailored training options for members and the wider building industry,” Mr Bugeja said.

“This will help boost the skills within our sector and assist local builders and tradespeople to keep delivering high quality projects for the local community.”
