Master Builders offer a flood of support and info for disaster victims and builders

The Master Builders Association of Victoria has responded to the recent floods and cyclone that have ravaged Australia's east coast by launching a special webpage with information for property owners and builders.

The webpage is now live (4 February) and follows an outpouring of support offered by builders keen to help with the rebuild.

"We hope that this new webpage will not only inform property owners and builders but will link the two up so they can begin the process of repairs," Executive Director Brian Welch said.

"The webpage features links to information and advice for property owners who are wondering what to do next and also provides them with a link to our 'Find A Master Builder' database of builders and tradespeople," he said.

"It also features a section for builders who are looking to help with the rebuild so they can sign-up for further updates.

"The process of rebuilding will be a lengthy and complicated time and we hope this webpage will help make it a little easier for those involved."

Visit www.mbav.com.au and follow the links to see the new webpage or call Master Builders on 9411 4555 for more information.
