Master Builders names North East's top builders

North East Victoria's top commercial and residential builders were recognised last night at Master Builders Regional Building Awards for outstanding projects in the region.

About 230 guests attended the celebration evening at the Commercial Club, Albury.

Premier Building and Construction were crowned the region's Commercial Builder of the Year for the Kotzur Office Redevelopment in Walla Walla. Meanwhile, Scott James Builder named the region's Residential Builder of the Year for a Wodonga project. The competition to win a prize was intense with a record number of entries.

Judge Peter Helfer praised the two major winners for creating "quintessential Australian buildings."

"The design of the Wodonga home was an excellent example of a stylish home suitable for a young, growing family and their future needs," he said.

"Meanwhile, the Kotzur building had a fascinating story behind it and in this case, the builder did very well in overcoming some difficult circumstances."

Master Builders Executive Director, Brian Welch, said all entrants presented competitive and attractive projects, making the judges' decisions difficult.

"I congratulate the winners for their high level of quality and workmanship in their projects," he said.

"Customers in North East Victoria can approach all the builders recognised in these awards with confidence – knowing their work has been measured against the highest possible standards."

Winners will now compete for the State Commercial and Residential Awards to be announced in August and October respectively.
